

Medicinal Chemistry Center (MCC) Rigor and Reproducibility Statement

Most instruments at the MCC are for the purification of chemical compounds, which need to be characterized and validated after the purification by experts and instruments in other facilities such as the analytical instrument center in the School of Pharmacy. The manager at the MCC will maintain the instrument according to the instructions from the manufacturer to ensure rigor and reproducibility.